

Throughout the evening, Harvie S, who has performed with jazz giants Stan Getz, Michael Brecker and Joe Lovano, among many others, often played with his eyes closed, bopping like a bobble head doll and working up and down the neck. His song, "Courage," served as the most frenetic song of the first set.

The band will self-produce its first disc, then shop it around to labels. "After we get the recording, we'll probably have a CD release gig at a club in the city – the Jazz Standard is a good place – then eventually, we'll try to get on some of the summer festivals. It'll probably be a few years before we get everything moving forward with enough momentum, but we're on our way."
